SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

As we, the class of '54 face graduation, fond memories of the past mingle with eager hopes for the future.

During the last four years of our high school life we were divided into separate schools. In our respective schools, Botetourt and Achilles, we enjoyed various activities; such as parties, dances, ball games, and others.

At the beginning of our Junior year in September 1952, the following class officers were elected: Achilles; President, Robert Hoffman: Vice-President, Peggy Travis; Secretary, Elsie Mae Hall, Treasurer, William Robins; Reporter, Johnny Belvin; SCA Representatives, Katherine Hall and Barbara Haynes. Botetourt: President, Sylvia Moore; Vice-President, Boyd Gwyn; Secretary, Barbara Sue Hall; Treasurer, Margaret Hogge; Representatives, David Bristow, and Elizabeth Sheppard.

In our Junior year we were fortunate to have Mrs. T. B. Treakle and Mrs. W. J. Pointer as our class sponsors.

At Botetourt we had a Junior-Senior Prom, and our Botetourt-Achilles Ring Dance was held at Achilles High School Gymnasium on May 9, 1953.

Although we had only one year together in our new high school, those days will never be forgotten.

Barbara Dutton and Louise Smith

CLASS SONG

Our schooldays are over,
our classes are done,
Old Gloucester will see us no more;
We'll remember our joys and our sorrow and fun
In fond memory's place in our heart.
We've fought and we've won and the ending is nigh
When we leave our dear teachers and friends;
So this parting will give us a tear and a sigh
When we look back on all that endears.

Come seniors and sing of days gone by
And days that are yet to come,
Of parties and dances and game victories cry
And forget not your classmates so dear;
And if we may wander,
where e'er we may go Whether fortunes we make or we loose
When we think of our schooldays, there's one thing we know
To old Gloucester we'll ever be true.

C[illegible]ES

Now, we would like to show you some of the classes which meet during the day.

Each day is divided into an activity pe[illegible] class periods. The courses offered this year [illegible]de selection of subject matter which should give [illegible] opportunity to choose a class which especially intere[illegible]

SENIOR ENGLISH

Here we see a senior English class taught by Mrs. Treakle. This year the seniors have studied English literature, which is the background to our American literature.

ENGLISH

Here we see Mrs. Bobbie Clements conducting an eighth grade class in the rights and wrongs of grammar. We think it must be a very amusing class from the smiles that we can see.

ENGLISH

Here we look in on Mrs. Rowe's sophomore English class. They are studying the fundamentals of English grammar and learning how to improve their speaking and writing.

GOVERNMENT

Senior Government - Pointer
Now we will visit a senior government class which is studying the Constitution of the United States, and the various powers which are given to the government by that document. This class is taught by Mrs. Pointer.

World History - Hogg
Here we see the World History class taught by Mrs. Hogg. They are planning to study the history of the world from the earliest man down to modern times. Do you think they can do it?

WORLD HISTORY

GEOGRAPHY

These eighth graders are studying geography under the leadership of Mrs. Hogg. They will learn something about the life, habits, and customs of people in different parts of the world.

ALGEBRA

Here we step into a class in Algebra 1. These freshmen are learning the fundamentals of algebra, as they solve equations for the value of x. They are taught by Mrs. Anderton.

SOLID GEOMETRY

This is the Solid Geometry and Trigonometry class under the leadership of Miss Mary A. Catlett. The class will study solid geometry the first semester and trigonometry the second semester.

GENERAL SCIENCE

These freshmen are studing general science under Mr. Lester. They are learning some of the basic science principles and how science affects their daily lives.

BIOLOGY

As we look in on another class, we see Mrs. Longest instructing some tenth graders in biology. They are exploring the insect world by studying the different insects and their habits.

This is a chemistry class taught by Mr. Heath. We hope everyone is mastering these chemical formulas. They seem to be studying very hard; we hope they have balanced the next equation correctly.

CHEMISTRY

Here we see Mrs. Treakle's Latin I class hard at work translating a story from Latin into English. This is not easy, we know; but we feel sure that they will succeed, don't you?

Here we see Mrs. Pointer's Spanish classes learning how to speak and read Spanish. We have a feeling that under the direction of Mrs. Pointer they will be able to speak Spanish like an expert.

SPANISH

OFFICE PRACTICE

These office practice students are busily typing letters under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Shackelford. They will learn filing, and many other practices which will be helpful to them in an office job.

BOOKKEEPING

Here we look in on Mrs. Sullivan's Bookeeping 1. They are learning about capital assets, net income, and such things. From the studious expressions on their faces, it must be an absorbing subject.

TYPING

Mrs. Charles Sullivan is conducting a class in first year typing. Their aim is to make 40 words with no errors on this speed test.

SHORTHAND

These girls are practicing to improve their skill in shorthand. They take dictation and write letters which introduce new words. We hope that these girls, who are taught by Mrs. Shackelford, will make efficient secretaries.

AGRICULTURE

Here we see Mr. Hall teaching a class in agriculture. We hope that these boys will pay strict attention to the important fundamentals of agriculture which Mr. Hall is presenting to them.

STUDY HALL

Now we shall look in on Mrs. Treakle's study hall. All of these boys and girls look very studious; we are sure that they will be well prepared for tomorrow's classes.

HOME ECONOMICS

The girls of Home Economics are learning to cook in a modern kitchen with all the newest conveniences. They study food values and the planning of nutritious meals.

These girls are ready to eat a tasty meal prepared in the kitchen of the home economics department. They have learned the proper way to set a table under the guidance of their teacher, Miss Shelton.

This is a demonstration of the proper way to adjust a hemline. These girls are learning the fundamentals of sewing while they make attractive clothes for themselves.

GIRLS

Here we look in on a girls' Physical Education Class. These girls are taking exercises before they begin playing basketball. When warmer weather arrives, they will move outdoors for a game of softball.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

This is a boys' Physical Education Class which is meeting in the gymnasium for the winter months. After they finish these exercises, they will be engaged in a game of basketball.

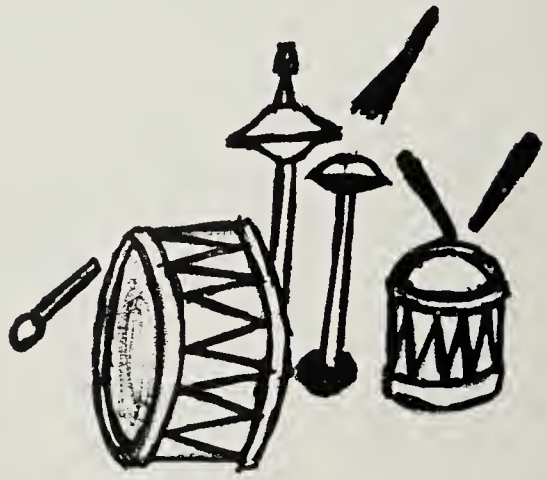
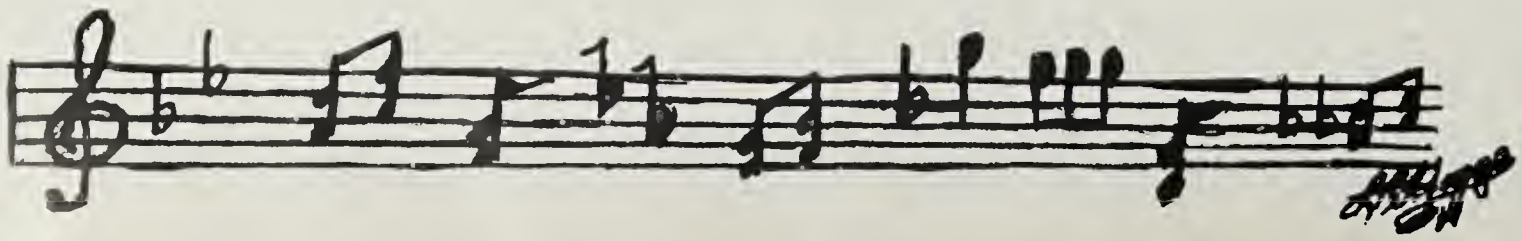
BAND

This is the Gloucester High School Band which has had a very successful year. A number of Gloucester civic groups organized a campaign in order to raise money to buy new instruments for the band. The band is very proud of its new instruments and the progress that it has made.





F. H. A.

The purpose of the F. H. A. toward which these future homemakers strive is to prepare themselves to take their places in their homes and in the community. In the words of their creed they face the future with warm courage and high hope.

These boys are members of the Future Farmers of America, a national organization of boys who will become the farmers of tomorrow. In their club the boys are learning important facts about farming which will help them to become successful and prosperous.

F. F. A.

The Library Club with its sponsor, Mrs. M. T. Harris, has worked hard this year to make our new library attractive with the addition of pictures and decorative bulletin boards.

LIBRARY CLUB

These 4-H Club members, who are enrolled in projects ranging from raising corn to home beautification, will strive this year to fulfill the words of the 4-H pledge concerning head, hands, heart, and health.

CLASS PROPHECY

A few days ago I received an invitation to the wedding of one of my classmates in Gloucester, my hometown. Speeding on my way to Louisville, I picked up Helen Streagle who is now married. We had two hours before plane time, and we walked over to the ticket office and looked into the familiar face of Johnny Belvin. Still surprised, we stumbled onto a place to eat. Who should the owner be but Jackie White! Talking to her we found that Ella Harriet Klohr was entering a horse in the Derby.

Arriving back at the airport we boarded the plane and met our classmates Ann Wilson and Helen Smith who were stewardesses. They told us there was nothing to worry about because J. D. Briggs was pilot, and was ably assisted by Lloyd Catlin, co-pilot. After the plane was in the air, we noticed Irvin Hill sitting across the aisle. He was touring the country giving lectures on soil conservation. He told us that Robert Hoffman was forest ranger for a big national park.

Arriving in Richmond, we caught a bus and sat down behind three familiar people who were Boyd Gwyn, Harold DuVal, and William Robins, now coaches. They had come from a football game where they saw Luther Riley, sports editor of the associated press, and Charles King, president of Hampden-Sydney.

As the country side became familiar, we passed a store just opened by Lionel Hogge and Richard Carmine who were successful plumbers. Two tractors were stalled in the road ahead and the two men were Gerald Ray Thomas and Andrew Ewell, now farmers.

When we arrived in Gloucester we heard the wail of David Bristow's ambulance. David is now a successful mortician. The patient was Sylvia Moore, we found out later, who was suffering from an attack of appendicitis. In the ambulance with her was Turner Gray, now a chemical engineer. Sylvia had little to worry about when her nurses were Jean Burnett and Betsy Thompson.

Observing a new brick building, we learned that Bobby Shackelford and Wayne Clements were in the used car business. Also we learned that Herbert Leigh and Carl Raye West were in the trucking business competing with the B. E. Bordon Trucking Co. for which Frances Oliver was secretary.

CLASS PROPHECY

We saw William Harwood, a captain in the Air Force, talking to Marion Lee West, Marvin Harris, and Charles Belvin who are three brilliant mechanical engineers in the Army.

We saw Billy Harris and Walter Oliver coming out of their electrical shop where they are partners. They joined Donald Sterling and Curtis Leigh, captain and mate home from a trip on an oil tanker. Catching a taxi, we passed a bus station where James Leslie Owens was the owner of a chartered bus line.

The next day I arrived at church early to see if I could find the rest of my classmates. Barbara Dutton and Estelle Dunnigan nearly filled two pews with their children and husbands. Elizabeth Sheppard, the organist was accompanying Dianne Prentice, soloist from the Common Glory Choir. Bessie Williams and Barbara Haynes were the stenographers for the famous dress designer, Suzanne Jarvis, who had just arrived from Paris. Catherine Hicks sat down in front; she was a member of the administration at Drexel Institute. She spoke to Iva Smith and Katherine Hall, officers in the Women's Air Force.

Across from us sat Lois Rowe, Myrtle Rowe, and Elsie Hall who had opened a business school. They were speaking to Jane Baptist, President of Longwood College, and her secretary, Flora Rust, who is married now to that sailor. Margaret Hogge entered with her husband, John. They sat down beside Edna Bohannon and Barbara Sears who now run the local beauty shoppe, noted for its hair styles.

The music started and the bridesmaids came down the aisle-Katherine Williams, Jean Dutton, Eva Snead, and Kathleen Nuttall, all of whom are married now and settled here in Gloucester. Then the maid of honor, Joan Shackelford who is married and has twins, came in. Then the bride entered--Barbara Sue Hall--who was marrying that boy named Fred.

As I sat there watching the ceremony I realized that the Class of 1954 had come a long way since that night when we received our diplomas with stars in our eyes and hope in our hearts for the uncertain future.

Helen Streagle

SENIOR FAREWELL

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

--By Suzanne Jarvis

We, the members of the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and fifty four, realizing the necessity of disposing of our most cherished possessions do bequeath the following:

1. Elizabeth Sheppard, who is sweet, slender, and tall, wills her friendly smile to Mr. Hall.
2. That nice, tall girl named Barbara Dutton, leaves her height to V. C. Sutton.
3. Little Jean Dutton, who likes to flirt, leaves Betty Booker the right to continue her work.
4. Harriet Klohr with a drawl soft and sweet, leaves Judy Barter her study-hall seat.
5. James Owens, who just couldn't be forgotten, wills his crew cut to Nick Whitecotton.
6. Myrtle Rowe, a basketball player on the beam, wills Daisy Procter her position on the Gloucester Team.
7. Frances Oliver, the chick with curls, leaves her locks to the straight-haired girls.
8. Katherine Williams, whom you all see around, leaves her pretty gray eyes to Lena Mae Brown.
9. Estelle Dunnigan, who is jolly and carefree, leaves Helen Crowder to carry on the laughing jamboree.
10. Patty Hicks, who can't spell "cat", leaves Mary Hyde the right to do better than that.
11. That girl named Forrest Hall, a friendly soul, leaves Hebert Brown her typing eraser, it is still usable though old.
12. Friendly Suzanne Jarvis, who went to boarding school last year, leaves her sister, Margaret, her new car, hoping she'll drive in the right gear.
13. Petite Jane Baptist, wills Schylor Clay a good conduct grade, because she knows he needs it.
14. Eva Snead, who is quick at learning, leaves Mary Fern Alexander a match to keep the Gloucester night life burning.
15. Well liked Charles King, the team's guard, leaves his pal, Buddy Burnett a new pair of eyes.
16. Sharp Louise Smith, who is never in a fog, leaves her love for yellow to Dottie Hogge.
17. Joan Shackelford, who is nice and sweet, leaves the Gantt sisters the right to love Gene Meek.
18. William Robins, who is quiet, tall, and handsome, leaves his position on the football team to John Newcomb.
19. Donald Sterling, who likes no special girl, wills them all to his friend, John Earl.
20. Likable William Harwood, that fast guy, leaves his speed for Pee Wee Quillian to try.
21. Betsy Thompson, whose giggle is anything but quiet, leaves her favorite government book to Margaret Wiatt.
22. Carl Raye West, who "takes off" through the village, leaves his driving ability to Chrissy Tillage.
23. Kathleen Nutall, who'll never get bigger, leaves Nancy Wilburn her "stringbean" figure.
24. Barbara Haynes leaves her desk in the senior room to Patty Gaddy to seal her doom.
25. Charles Belvin who tries with all his might, leaves Lionel Jordan his great height.
26. Peggy Travis leaves the right to love tall, dark and handsome boys to Joyce Hogg, the girl known for making noise.
27. Herbert Leigh, who always caught heck, leaves you all his bus which is quite a wreck.
28. Richard Carmine, whom everyone knows, leaves the right to make good grades to Freddie Lee Ambrose.
29. Robert Hoffman, the Government class favorite because he's such a talker, leaves his hairpin-plucking ability to John Gray and Wilton Walker.

30. Jackie White, who is anything but quiet, leaves her sense of humor to Nancy Wiatt.
31. Bobby Shackelford, the flirt with the suave style, leaves to his younger brother, the girls for a while.
32. Harold DuVal, who played right tackle this year, leaves his football suit to Herman Sears.
33. Billy Harris, who is blond and tall, wills Jerry Croswell his ability to play basketball.
34. Marvin Harris, who played football, leaves the left field to Edward Hall.
35. Luther Riley, who's often seen in the village, leaves his basketball ability to Crissy Tillage.
36. Ann Wilson, the girl with the friendly look, leaves Joyce Shackelford her shorthand book.
37. Curtis Leigh, who is very small, leaves his brain to Wilton Hall.
38. Flora Rust, who likes to flirt and make noise, leaves Nancy Clements the right to trick the boys.
39. Barbara Sue Hall, who'll soon be learning to cook, leaves Audrey Newton her second year shorthand book.
40. Margaret Hogge, the senior blond who never makes a fuss, leaves all her quietness to Audrey Fay Broaddus.
41. Jean Burnett, the nice girl who isn't very tall, leaves the right to someone else to be liked by all.
42. Andrew Ewell, who is leaving Chemistry class with joy, wills his beloved text book to Herbert McCoy.
43. Nice Elsie Mae Hall declared that she has said, she'd leave Betsy Hogge,her fingernails, painted red.
44. J. D. Briggs leaves his girl, Susan, to all the young wolves for their approval.
45. Irvin Hill, who always gives the teachers heck, leaves Mr. Camm permission to be a nervous wreck.
46. Little Barbara Sears leaves her weight to Betty Gordon Hogge to seal her fate.
47. Lois Rowe is trying to do her part by leaving her love for government to Norma Dehart.
48. Edna Bohannon, who is extremely shy, leaves you all the right to tell her good-by.
49. Lionel Hogge, who is really a big flirt, wills Lynwood Hogge the privilege to continue the work.
50. Gerald Raye Thomas, who is really on the beam, wills Billy Robins his ability to play on the baseball team.
51. Marion Lee West, the guy we call Pappy, leaves Bill Robins the right to look happy.
52. Lloyd Catlin, who is quiet and gentle, leaves Elizabeth Ann Thomas the right to act temperamental.
53. Boyd Gwyn, who loves a girl named Jane, leaves the junior boys the right to do the same.
54. Helen Streagle, who can talk up a riot, leaves Gloucester High School for some peace and quiet.
55. Sylvia Moore wills her ability to play basketball to Katherine Jenkins, the girl who isn't very tall.
56. Johnnie Belvin, whose giggles are known far and wide, leaves the junior boys the girl-catching tricks he has tried.
57. Dianne Prentice, who is one of the most talkative girls, leaves Elizabeth Lollis the right to grow long curls.
58. Wayne Clements, who rode the Cheerleaders to the games in his convertible Ford, leaves to the girls who rode in it, the right to recall how it roared.
59. Bessie Williams, known for her quiet ways, leaves her friends at G. H. S. many happy days.
60. David Bristow, that guy with the curls, leaves John Hogge his way with the girls.
61. Helen Smith, who is always neat, leaves Loretta Green her senior room seat.
62. Turner Gray, who is a whizz at learning, leaves Bernard Ambrose the midnight oil to keep burning.
63. Walter Oliver, known for his red hair, leaves Mr. Trent his wig to wear.
